Vision and Mission

Youth Innovation Competition on Global Governance

YICGG is a global summit that aims to provide an opportunity for those aspiring students interested in global governance so as to interpret and spread their ideas.

YICGG was launched in 2007 by Fudan University, sponsored by United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) in China and organized by the School of International Relations and Public Affairs (SIRPA) of Fudan University.

In the past eleven years, we have brought together hundreds of top students from more than 81 countries and regions to present their ideas to esteemed researchers and thoughtful leaders in the innovation space.
Initiative and Reputation

Youth Innovation Competition on Global Governance

The initiative to start YICGG is to establish a platform for the youth to meet each other and debate on global affairs, as well as to communicate and achieve a consensus on a broad horizon, concerning all mankind. The process of YICGG appears differently with that of the debates in daily life or on the Internet. It allows face-to-face discussion with the spirit of science, combined with critical and logical thinking, in order to produce a practical proposal with high academic value which can be applied to the real world.

YICGG thinks highly of young people’s passion on global issues. Thanks to the high academic standard, YICGG has been cited as “the Academic Olympics for the Youth” among similar student activities.
